

Cindy Morris,^{MSW}
Author, Speaker, and Counselor-at-Large

Frequently Asked Questions

What does it look like to live as empowered person?

You make good decisions that create more contentment, happiness, peace and prosperity for you ~ in your business and in the business of your life.

The more contented and happy you are the more you lighten and brighten the World.

How do I learn to make better decisions and live an empowered life?

Use the 5 simple guiding principles, the Priestess Principles.

What are the Priestess Principles?

5 SIMPLE guidelines that work to align you with your divinely inspired self

1. Step into the driver's seat of your Life
2. Tell yourself the truth
3. Embrace your intuition
4. Engage with others
5. Rest, relax, and rejuvenate!

By committing to following the Priestess Principles you commit to empowering yourself in your business and the business of your life.

You don't have to be in business to live as a Practical Priestess. If you are in business you engage that Practical Priestess by becoming the Priestess Entrepreneur

Who is the Priestess Entrepreneur?

The Priestess Entrepreneur is any woman in business, either who owns her own business or works within someone else's, who is empowered in her decision making because she is connected to her own higher guidance. She is the woman who offers up her divinely inspired work, work that uplifts and brightens the world, her divinely inspired contribution.

Cindy Morris,^{MSW}
Author, Speaker, and Counselor-at-Large

Who are some well-known Priestesses Entrepreneurs?

Anita Roddick, creator of the Body Shop, working to empower women in developing countries
Martha Stewart, creator of her “ I must bring beauty to the world” empire
Diane Von Furstenburg: “Feel like a woman, wear a dress”- revolutionized the fashion world with her wrap dress...looks good on any woman of any age and shape.

How did I come to this?

I owned and operated a successful retail flower shop for 10 years. I ran this business myself, a solopreneur, building the business from a home-based micro-business to a 13 employees, hopping business in a popular shopping area in Boulder, Colorado. And believe me, the flower business is no glamorous business. It's a 5 a.m. to whenever, every day sort of business. And the learning curve was steep!

With my degree in Social Work, emphasis on family systems, I came to understand how a business is just like a family, but even more challenging.

I HAD to come into a position of empowerment and step into the role of healthy empowered boss in order to have my business run as a healthy, functioning and profitable business. And I did.

I learned to be a Priestess Entrepreneur.

Now I want to share what I learned with every other woman in business because what I learned really worked.

Why now?

Clearly the time is NOW for the balance of power between men and women to equalize. In order to create a world which lives and sustains itself in harmony, power must be shared equally between men and women. It is up to each woman to step into her own personal empowerment in order for this change to take place.

How do we do this?

We support one another! Just like a team works together for the good of all, so must we support and uplift one another to live our empowered selves, connected to Spirit.

Practical PRIESTESS

Cindy Morris,^{MSW}
Author, Speaker, and Counselor-at-Large

How can I help YOU be your empowered self?

I will come speak to your group

I offer Personal one-on-one counseling

I wrote the book I wish I had had when I was in business.

Now you can have it:

Priestess Entrepreneur: Keep your Soul Surviving as Your Business is Thriving

Available through Amazon and Barnes and Noble and as a downloadable ebook